Dear St. Joseph School Families

Every year represent to you a group of very talented students who share their gift of music with you. This year is certainly no exception. The hard work and dedication that these students have demonstrated under the guidance of their teachers is more validation of the merits of a Catholic education. In watching the re-enactment of the Holy Pageant as I have during rehearsals, I wonder what it must have been like on that very first Christmas in Bethlehem, and I think about the Christ-child being calmed and quieted by the music of the stable animals, and of the gentle melodies of his mother, Mary. May tonight's gift of music and pageantry from our students bring calm and peaceful quiet to your hearts, and may He rejoice in these special gifts! Many thanks to our school families, our faculty and staff, Fr. Frank, Fr. Rick, Fr. George, St. Joseph Parishioners, and members of our community who continue to support our students and our school. Your involvement and contributions helps our school and our students thrive in a faith-filled environment.

Peace and Blessings, Nadene Cafasso, Principal
